- Welcome to our 15th Whisky Fringe -

We have come a long way in the decade and a half since the first Whisky Fringe, and back then there were almost no precedents to what a Whisky Festival should be. Although the scale of our event has changed, the ethos remains the same. Our suppliers have the opportunity to show off the best whiskies in the world, with enough time and space to chat about their spirits. Our customers are able to sample and hear about a great selection of drinks, and to get a ticket for a reasonable price so they feel free to try whiskies they might not normally buy a bottle of.

This year the venue are providing good value food as well as tea, coffee and soft drinks. This is located downstairs in the garden and we hope many of you will enjoy this offering as well as taking a break from the sampling. We urge everybody to take care and not underestimate the strength of alcoholic spirits. We want everybody to be and feel safe, and all visitors to feel comfortable with the behaviour of those around them.

Finally, we would like to make special mention to Neil Berrie who organised ten Whisky Fringes and is now finally able to attend as a punter. Look out for him and give him a pat on the back from us!

To ensure maximum enjoyment of your day:

- Don't drink on an empty stomach
- Pace your sampling
- Drink plenty of water (refresh your palate, stay hydrated)
- Use the spittoons provided. You don't have to finish every dram.
- If you are in a group please look after each other.
- Don't be rude. The exhibitors have the right not to serve you.
- Remember to use your £10 off voucher at the RMW event shop.
- Don't forget to vote for your favourite dram to enter the prize draw.

- The Half Time Orange/Whistle -

Listen out for the Half Time whistle, due today at 4.00 pm. It is the signal to 'commence pouring' on a very select few drams.

A number of our exhibitors have kindly agreed to bring along one single bottle of something special for you to try today, at no extra charge. Stocks are limited and may run out depending on demand. A list of the Half Time whiskies can be found at the RMW Shop at Stand 28.

The exhibitors are under strict instruction to have their special bottle available only from 4.00 pm for just a short window of time (approximately 15 minutes) or for simply as long as the bottle lasts.

You may select only ONE of these special whiskies to sample.

Be prepared with your Half Time Orange token in readiness to exchange for your chosen dram.

- A Short Guide to Appreciating Whisky -

It is recommended that you should aim to sample no more than 6 drams (be aware that some drams may be Cask Strength and above the standard 40% ABV). Always remember to keep yourself hydrated in-between drams.

For those still discovering whisky, we have put a few pointers in the program. A 'Staff Favourite' is a whisky that continually rates highly across our employees, and is a great place to start if you want to set a benchmark for a particular distillery. You'll also find a few lines introducing each company and their house style and specialisms, so its worth having an overall read of the programme before sampling. Plan your route around the room!

- Nosing and tasting -

Appreciating a whisky involves nosing it just as much as actually tasting it; the Snifter glass provided is the best glass for this purpose. First gently nose the dram. What aromas can you distinguish? There may be any number of the following and more; Phenols (peat and smoke) Esters (fruit or solvent) Floral (grass and flowers) Cereal (malty, yeasty) Wine (sherry and nutty) Woody (vanilla and toast) Sulphur (gas and rubber) Feints (tobacco and leather).

Next, add a drop of water. It's worth trying a little without water first to see how it tastes, but the strength of the alcohol might be too powerful – so a little water will stop the strength of the whisky anaesthetizing your senses and allow you to perceive more flavours. Add a little water at a time to get the right dilution. Individual tastes will vary so experiment with what you prefer.

Take a little sip into your mouth, swirl it around and concentrate on the sensations. There are three elements to look out for if you really want to evaluate the whisky. The 'taste' itself is perhaps the most obvious element - does the whisky taste sweet, bitter, salty or sour? The two other elements are the 'mouth feel', which occurs before the whisky is swallowed - is the whisky astringent, drying, fizzy, mouth watering? Finally there is the 'finish' of the whisky - does it leave an aftertaste; how long does the flavour last for?

Take a bit of time before moving onto a new whisky, to allow your taste buds to recover. There is water available throughout the hall, as well as oatcakes on all stands to help you cleanse your palate.

- Whiskies & Stands -

Gordon & Macphail (Stand 1)

Many members of staff champion Benromach, and praise it for its smoke and sherry, perfectly balanced in an old fashioned way. Gordon and Macphail are of course solid exponents of the art of independent bottling, but Paul John Indian Malt Whisky is here for those looking for a touch of exoticism.

Strathearn Distillery (Stand 2)

As you would expect from such a young and enthusiastic distillery, Strathearn are full of ideas. Whether you argue that maturing malt spirit in acacia, chestnut and mulberry casks is traditional or innovative, you can't deny it is fascinating.

Bruichladdich (Stand 3)

Once the enfant terrible of the industry, under Remy Cointreau's ownership The Laddie is still Islay's largest employer and shows no sign of changing its idiosyncratic approach. Please, leave the insanely peaty Octomore until the last dram.

Irish Distillers (Stand 4)

Pure pot still Irish whiskey is a style we have always adored, but for so long you could only really try Green Spot or Redbreast 12. The last few years have seen a wonderful stampede of these creamy, spicy beasts, and for their debut at Whisky Fringe they have brought a lineup that looks like a greatest hits compilation.

Pernod Ricard (Stand 5)

If you've been to Whisky Fringe before, you've probably met Ian Logan. You know his 'Oranges' are worth picking, and that the line-up brought by him and Kirsty is outrageously generous. It's business as usual for 2016.

For so long the malts that went into Dewars were almost impossible to buy as single malts, but now these great distilleries have bottled ambassadors of their own. Each distinct and characterful, you can also try the yummy Dewars 12 year old blend they contribute to.

William Grant & Sons (Stand 7)

An extremely exciting stand. Alwynne is tasked with shining a light on the hidden gems in a portfolio that also contains Glenfiddich and Balvenie. Popcorn-like single grains, a skilful blend of 'Ghosted' distilleries, and peaty Ailsa Bay. Lots to enjoy.

(£) Ailsa Bay 48.9% 70cl.....	£53.95

Hunter Laing (Stand 8)

Specialists in very old single cask whisky, their stock is so limited every release is new to us but their quality is trusted. We are most looking forward to trying another old single grain from a closed distillery (Port Dundas) and a youthful wine-finished Islay (Caol Ila).

(£) Port Dundas 1988 Sovereign 56.1% 70cl.....	£94.95	New

Kilchoman (Stand 9)

Family-owned and producing young Islay malt of the highest order, this distillery stands proud against its centuries-old neighbours. Leave this smoky malt until later in the day, but definitely don't leave it out.

(£) Kilchoman 100% Islay 6th Ed 50% 70cl.....	£71.95	New

Glen Moray (Stand 10)

Once over-looked, the improvements to the Glen Moray output are gratifying, especially when you consider some very sensible pricing. At the lighter end of the spectrum, this is a great stand to begin your day at.

Ben Nevis (Stand 11)

Accented by sherry casks and bottled unchillfiltered, there is a humble, old-fashioned style to this Fort William spirit so suddenly we notice fans of Springbank and other thoroughly un-modern whiskies taking another look at Ben Nevis.

(£) Ben Nevis 10 Year Old 46% 70Cl.....	£32.95

Tomatin (Stand 13)

A rising star, with ever-improving liquid and lovely new bottles. The charming Alistair has never had such a varied portfolio to pour as more new innovative cask finishes join the old fruity stock we love, plus the smoky Cu Bocan goes from strength to strength.

Moët Hennessey (Stand 15)

Both of these distilleries are still benchmarks in our opinion. Glenmorangie for a light, fruity and elegant style of malt, and Ardbeg for something that is persistently smoky whilst retaining complexity.

Springbank (Stand 17)

Individual, traditional and greatly admired. The lighter Hazelburn and Kilkerran are fine ways to start any tasting, Springbank has a bold weight with rumblings of smoke, and Longrow has a peaty intensity best suited to the end of the day.

Dalmore is a heavy hitter best left until later in the afternoon, whereas Jura has fine drams for the beginning (10 and 16) and end of the day (Prophecy and Superstition). Even we've yet to try the Tastival bottling which is 'triple sherry' finished!

The hillbilly Platte Valley moonshine snuck in on the Drinkmonger stand last year, and joins the ever-expanding Arran range of light yet delicious single malt. The Machrie Moor is the smoky joker in the pack, being their very peaty spirit.

Inver House Distillers (Stand 23)

It's no secret that this company is one of our top suppliers, as we love their high quality and fairly priced single malts. As if that wasn't enough, you lot seem to keep on voting them Spirit of Whisky Fringe.

Distell International (Stand 24)

With a consistent range of unchillfiltered, higher strength malts there is a reassuring solidity to their offering when others are having to tinker with their range and dropping age statements. Ledaig 18 is the new smoking star sure to attract attention.

Benriach Distillery Company (Stand 25)

It is remarkable how far these three distilleries have come. Benriach with its kaleidoscopic range of spirit matched to different casks, the weighty sherry of Glendronach laying waste to all before it, and Glenglassaugh improving all the time.

Adelphi Distillery Company (Stand 26)

Gone are the days when our shop shelves had a great selection of single casks from Adelphi, and it's not because we don't love them...they simply sell too quickly! The Glover is a mix of Japanese and Scotch malt, and this third edition will fly.
